- Date Oil:

One of the most valuable vegetable oils in the world, extracted through complex processes using special industrial machines. It is a yellowish-red oil without any essence and is offered in various volumes and special packaging.

- Date Coffee:

Ground date seeds resemble coffee in both appearance and taste, with the key difference being that they contain no caffeine. To prepare this type of coffee, the date seeds are roasted in an oven, a process that enhances their flavor and aroma. Immediately after roasting, the seeds are ground into powder. This popular and widely-loved product is available in the market in both bulk and packaged forms.

Shirjonob Company, with its focus on quality, innovation, and adherence to standards, is one of the pioneers in Iran's date and date syrup industry. It hopes to increase its share in global markets by continuing this path. The company is also committed to its social responsibilities and works towards supporting local farmers and promoting sustainable development.

By offering a wide variety of high-quality products, Shirjonob not only meets market demands but also promotes the culture of date consumption. The reputable Shirjonob brand also has a strong focus on international markets. Its products are exported to various countries, and due to their high quality, the company has managed to secure a significant share of the global markets. Shir
